

6516209082.txt

I am on the road every day in my job as a sales rep. Before I subscribed to XM Radio, I often had to wait half an hour or more and listen to interminable commercials and DJ chatter before I could get a traffic or weather report for my destination. Now I can get those reports anytime I want them, not when the radio station thinks I should have it. I pay for this service and I am not willing to give it up.